

Relationship Snakes and Ladders

Welcome to ACF's version of Snakes and Ladders. By playing this game together it is hoped you might find out more about each other and learn more about your relationship together.

You will need a dice and a couple of coins or objects to act as counters.

As you play the game you need to respond to the questions in the spaces that you land on.

After the game

When you finish the game, you might like to talk about the snakes (ups) and ladders (downs) you have experienced in your relationship together.

A ladder represents a time when you felt supported or lifted-up in your relationship. Could you share a time when it felt like this?

A snake represents a time when it felt hard in your relationship. Could you share a time when it felt like this?

A key idea that could be taken from this game is that there are some snakes and some ladders in the course of all relationships. That is just the way they are.

Australian
Childhood
Foundation

childhood.org.au

© Australian Childhood Foundation, 2021

Relationship Snakes and Ladders

36 FINISH	35 	34 Where would you like to go on holiday together?	33 	32 Is there a T.V. show you like to watch with your person?	31
25 	26	27	28 Share a time you laughed together?	29	30
24 What is a favourite activity your person likes to do?	23	22 What is something that you like doing together?	21	20 What is one thing that most people might not know about your person?	19
13 	14	15	16 	17	18 What are you grateful about when it comes to your person?
12	11	10 What is your person's favourite thing to eat?	9	8	7 Share a time you did something fun with your person?
1 START	2	3 Does your person have a secret talent?	4 What are some of your person's best qualities?	5	6 What is your person's favourite colour?